Art Unit: 1774

1. Claims 1-15 are, drawn to a continuous fibrous composite, classified in class 428, subclass 367.
2. Claims 16, drawn to a container, classified in class , subclass .
3. Claims 17-18 are, drawn to a method of reinforcing a container, classified in class 229, subclass 239.

1. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different effects.

2. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

3. During a telephone conversation with Carolyn Fisher on March 24 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of group III, claims 17-18. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 1-16 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 17-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wosaba et al. 4784271.

The prior art invention teaches a shipping carton or container that can be readily opened and converted into a display tray without having to use a knife or other sharp instrument. The carton is formed from a blank having four sidewalls and connected top and bottom end panels. The sidewalls have a line of severance running circumferentially around the carton that defines a continuous butt joint separating the carton into a top cover section and a bottom tray section. A wide tape having a narrow tear filament or strip attached to its inner surface is adhesively attached to the sidewalls' outer surface such that it bridges the butt joint and holds the carton's top and bottom sections together, the tear strip being substantially superimposed over the butt joint. Pulling the tear filament neatly splits the wide tape and separates the carton's top and bottom sections. Preferably, one of the carton's sidewalls is provided with an access aperture to make it easier to grasp the end of the tear filament therein. The tape is secured to the sidewalls by using, a pressure-sensitive heat-activated or water-activated adhesive, and can be made from a wide variety of materials such as paper; a polyolefin such as polypropylene, polyethylene, or polybutalene; nylon; or a polyester such as polyethylene terephthalate (PET) or Mylar.RTM..
